Code of Honour

This Code sets out the standards of honesty, fair play and respectful conduct expected of every IJF Academy student. It applies to applications, online learning, examinations, written work, practical sessions, placements and programme-related communication.

My commitment as a student

- I provide accurate information. I keep my registration details correct and up to date. I provide genuine information and documents about my identity, qualifications and achievements.
- I complete my own work. I take my module examinations myself and submit my own assignments, projects and placement evidence. I do not arrange for another person to complete assessed work for me.
- I acknowledge my sources. I provide proper quotations and references. I do not plagiarise or present another person's work as my own.
- I act honestly in assessment. I do not cheat, impersonate another student or help another person to cheat. I follow the identity, camera and examination instructions in the Student Handbook.
- I respect others. I treat fellow students, tutors, staff and sports colleagues courteously. I do not bully, harass, threaten or engage in conduct that disrupts learning or puts others at risk.
- I participate safely. I follow safety instructions and respect my training partners during practical activities.
- I follow the applicable rules. I comply with the law, Academy policies and the requirements of my programme.

Academic dishonesty breaches this Code even where the conduct is not specifically listed above. Read this Code with the Student Handbook and the Assessment and Academic Integrity Policy for your programme's assessment and submission requirements.
